FORDHAM EASY AS GEORGETOWN TRIUMPHS, 34-7

Neither Captain Flavin Nor Bill Kenyon Are Used Against New York Jesuit Eleven.

Comstock tossed Meyers for a loss of two yards at end. A forward pass over the center of the line brought seven yards and another netted a gain of four yards. Then some blue-jerseyed young man intercepted one of those passes, and it was Georgetown's ball on Georgetown's 18-yard line.

Al Leary dug his way through the middle of the line for fifteen yards and a first down, but DuFour fumbled on the net play, the ball going to the Hilltoppers on the 44-yard line. Again Leary ploughed his way through for a first down, and then Tom Pallen galloped around right end to Fordham's 25-yard line, where he was forced outside.

Finally, with darkness coming up rapidly, Fordham gathered all its strength and held Georgetown for downs, taking the ball on its own 16-yard line. It took considerable grit to do that, as several of the Hilltop backs were fresh and showed a lot of speed.

DuFour Takes Ball.

Falling to gain in the line Fordham punted to DuFour, who was back in the game. He traveled ten yards to Fordham's 46-yard line before being stopped. A double pass resulted in a fumble, but Georgetown had the ball on the 46-yard line.

Byrne shot a forward pass to Pallen for a gain of ten yards and then, for some strange reason, Georgetown punted over the Fordham goal line for a touchback.

Scrimmaging at the 20-yard line, Fordham got a couple of yards at right end. A forward pass was incomplete and Downey tried another after Thornton had gained seven yards on a plunge through the middle of the line.

Rudy Comstock, Georgetown's big guard, was awake to the possibilities, however. He leaped high into the air, grabbed the ball and off for the Fordham goal line. Nobody came close to bother the big fellow and his touchdown was easy. Another touchdown goal and Georgetown's total for the day had been made, 34 to 7.

Only one play followed the kickoff before the game ended and the big crowd started for home, satisfied that it had seen the better team win a bitterly-contested game.

NAVY PLANNING BIG SEASON IN ALL ATHLETICS

Boxing, Wrestling, Basketball, Swimming, Gymnastics, and Fencing Receive Attention.

ANNAPOLIS, Nov. 5.—While football has so engrossed the attention of the Naval Academy athletic officials that little attention has been given so far to other lines, those having direct charge of the winter branches have made some progress in securing suitable opponents for the Naval Academy teams, and good schedules are promised in boxing, wrestling, basketball, swimming, gymnastics and fencing. In most of these branches, the Naval Academy has stood at the top of the colleges in recent years.

The date of the annual basketball game between the Naval and Military Academies has been fixed this year for February 25, and it will be played at West Point. Most of the Wednesdays and Saturdays during December, January and February will be allotted to date, and another trip, besides that to West Point, during which a leading college team will be played, is probable.

The teams will be greatly helped by the permission of the Department to engage in one contest a year, away from Annapolis. The gymnastic, fencing and swimming teams are expected to enter the final tournament of the collegiate body governing these sports.

The swimming team is particularly anxious to meet Yale, and has offered to do so either at New Haven or Annapolis. It is believed that the former place will be chosen. Yale has held the collegiate championship for two years, but the Naval Academy also has had a great team, and will have two intercollegiate record holders this year. They are similar, at the 220-yards, and Kanakani at the 440-yard distance.

The trip of the wrestlers will be to Pennsylvania State, the date being March 11. Penn State boxers will engage the Midshipmen at Annapolis on February 25. For two years, the Naval Academy has stood at the top in these sports, though Penn State was its closest contender. It is likely that the intercollegiate supremacy in the particular line will be settled by these contests.

KNICKERBOCKERS CLASH WITH SEAMEN GUNNERS

The Knicks will clash with the heavy Seamen Gunner team Sunday afternoon, on the latter's field, Thirty-fifth street and Wisconsin avenue; game will start at 3 p. m.

This game is expected to give the Knicks the hardest battle of its present schedule. The Gunners have played brilliant football this season. They can be expected to give plenty of opposition to the best teams in the District.

The Knicks have a fine record to date, not having been scored on this season, and can be expected to give the Gunners a good brand of football. Following the game Sunday the Knicks have a game scheduled with the last Mohawk A. C. Sunday, November 13, this game will be played at Union League Park and is expected to bring one of the largest crowds of the season.

Liberty Wants Games.

The Liberty A. C. will take on the Mohawk Seavers today at 1:30 on the Bloomingdale playgrounds. The Liberty A. C. is looking for a game on November 11 on the Bloomingdale field. For games phone E. Humphrey at N-7643-7 at 6 o'clock.

THEY SHINE ON GRIDIRON FOR OLD GEORGETOWN

TRIPLE THREAT MAY BE SHOWN BY FOUR PROS

Walson, Bleir, Robb and Sullivan Star at Forward Passing, Kicking, and Running Ball.

WASHINGTON can boast of a backfield quartet that few teams in the country, professional or otherwise, can say they possess, and that is four men who carry the "triple threat." This afternoon at American League Park these men—Walson, Bleir, Robb and Sullivan—stars of the game, will exhibit their adeptness at forward passing, kicking and running the ball.

Norfolk is on deck today for a game with the Washington pros and comes up here touted as a strong eleven. Probably they have seen other teams and met other teams which have possessed one, two, or maybe three players in the backfield who could do each one of these tricks well, but never have they met an eleven which could rely upon any one man in the secondary to do the forward passing, kicking or line-bucking in the manner of a star.

All honors do not go to the locals, however. Jack Keating, former heavyweight champ of the navy will be on hand to show the fans how an ex-pug can play guard. Reports from the Norfolk district indicate that Keating plays a whale of a game. He will be opposed by our own Tom Gormley or Dan Ahearn, each man a star at his work.

TY COBB LEADS COAST SLUGGERS WITH .429

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 5.—Tyrus Raymond Cobb, whose strong point is leading everyone else in batting, is up to his old tricks once more.

Swatting the ball at a great clip, Cobb is leading the winter league batters with an average of .429. But the big surprise of the first three weeks' play of the winter league is the work of Willie Kamm, third baseman for the Seals. Kamm is pressing Cobb with a mark of .397. Rogers Hornsby, leading hitter of the National league who went into a slump the last three days, has a mark of .370. "Red" Smith, third baseman for the Tigers has a mark of .370 and Jack Knight's record is .368.

George Sieler's average is .357 and Harry Heilmann is hitting at .326. The work of Knight around second base has set the local up straight, and they are boosting for the Oakland infielder. Some years ago Knight entered the majors boosted as the "schoolboy" wonder. But he is getting better with age.

His fielding round second base has been uncanny while his hits have been real ones. If Del Howard doesn't want Knight for next season, Ed Miller will consider purchasing him.

HOWARD ROUTS SHAW ON CAMPUS GRIDIRON

Howard's last game on the home gridiron ended in a score of 24 to 6 in favor of Howard. The victory was earned, for every score was the result of a severe struggle with the Shaw fighters. These Southerners presented the stiffest argument exhibited on the local field this season. The first score was made in the first quarter when Payne crossed the victor's goal after a mixture of line plays and completed forward pass.

Very shortly after this score was registered another was made. Howard had advanced the ball to Shaw's 10-yard line and was there held for downs. Maury attempted to punt out the field, but Holton blocked the kick and recovered the ball back of the goal line.

In this same quarter R. Williams gave the Howard supporters the scare of the year when he got loose for a 45-yard run around the end and was not smothered until he had reached Howard's 10-yard line. Contee performed this valiant deed.

The second half contained many thrills, but no scores until the fourth quarter, when Donaghy made a 45-yard run off end with an exhibition of perfect interference. After two successful gains by Contee of six yards each, Payne was sent across with the third touchdown for Howard. After every touchdown Brooks kicked goals for additional points.

The Line-Up.

YANKS WONT TRAIN WITH BROOKLYN AT MIAMI

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—It was learned yesterday that the Brooklyn Robins would train for the campaign of 1922 at Miami, Fla. Last spring the leaders of the 1920 race deserted the State of the Everglades and of balmy breezes in favor of New Orleans, La. This arrangement was consummated largely because the Yankees were to take their spring practice at Shreveport, La., and Huggins and Robinson had it all framed up to journey northward together, as in the previous year, and to make the trip a series of wrestling matches between the two teams.

Now it turns out that neither of the managers was exactly fascinated over the availability of last spring's training ground. It is extremely probable that the determination of Manager Robinson means that the previous training confere of the Yankees and the Dodgers is broken up, for Miller Huggins will almost certainly decline to take his scholars to Florida again. Indeed, the expectation is that, far from trailing down into the Peninsula Commonwealth, the Yankees will leap to the opposite side of the Gulf of Mexico and absorb their tuition for the pennant race somewhere in Texas. Business Manager Barrow, a man not loquacious nor given to rhapsodizing over things unknown, admits that it would be no overwhelming shock to him if Galveston or some other of the thriving cities of the Lone Star State should have the honor of entertaining the Yanks next spring.

FOOTBALL SCOUTING MAY BE DONE WITH A CAMERA
COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 5.—Football scouting some day will be done by means of a movie camera, is the prediction of F. M. Haskett, Ohio State University photographer, who has been a student of the game for years. Figuring the actual time the ball is in play in four periods of

MORVICH WINS RICH PIMLICO FUTURITY RACE

Victory Is Eleventh in a Row for Block's Whirlwind Two-Year-Old Horse.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 5.—Morvich, Benjamin Block's unbeaten two-year-old, this afternoon won the Pimlico Futurity, the richest racing stake of the 1921 racing season, at the Pimlico racetrack. The race was over a mile course and was worth approximately $50,000 to the winner.

It was Morvich's eleventh victory this year. Lucky Hour was second and Run-a-nell third.

BRENTWOOD TO MEET BROOKLAND ELEVEN

The Brookland Athletic Club, after having had its game with the Capital City Club cancelled, has succeeded in arranging a game for today at 3 p. m. with the fast Brentwood Athletic Club on Killian Field, Catholic University.

The Brooklanders would like to arrange a game with the Regents for an early date, as they are the only team who have been fortunate enough to win from it this year.

Mackmen Quit It.
Though it may be of small importance, the Mackmen will not return to Lake Charles, La., next spring to train. Connie Mack has yet to select his new camp.

GALLAUDET IS STOPPED AFTER EARLY ROUNDS

Takes Lead by Scoring Touchdown on Blocked Kick and Then Booting Goal.

ANNAPOLIS, Nov. 5.—The silent lads of Gallaudet threw a fright into St. John's this morning by scoring a touchdown on a blocked kick and kicking the goal in the first quarter and ending the half with a score of 7 to 3 in their favor, but the local collegians romped through the second half to such effect that the final score favored them by 31 to 7.

St. John's had by no means its full offensive strength in the game. Fox, the fine running quarterback, not appearing at all while the swift-moving Kirkpatrick played during only a small portion of the game. However, the team played in great form in the last half, particularly the third quarter, and gave its followers much reason to believe that it stands well for the coming Mt. St. Mary's and Johns Hopkins games.

A new back, Downes, formerly of the Naval Academy, also appeared in the game for St. John's. The start was anything but encouraging to the St. John's contingent. Gallaudet received the kick-off and made some gains, La. Fountain generally carrying the ball. When its attack was stopped, St. John's fumbled so badly that it could not gain consistently. Towards the middle of the half Tickey attempted a field goal by snap kick from the 45-yard line. The try was blocked by La Fountain and Conner grabbing the ball ran 35 yards for a touchdown.

The quarter ended with the ball in St. John's possession on its own 35-yard line, and Tickey at once dropped back ten yards and attempted a field goal by a drop-kick. He put the ball over cleanly, but St. John's scored no further during the period, leaving the score at the end of the half 7 to 3 in favor of the visitors.

A changed team started for St. John's in the second half. St. John's kicked off, took the ball on downs. With Tickey hitting the line sledge hammer blows and Cashell occasionally making a gain outside of tackle, the ball was carried steadily down the field, Gregg taking it across for a touchdown.

Kirkpatrick came into the game a little later and toned up the speed of the team greatly. He made dashes of from ten to thirty yards around the end and carried the ball over for two second touchdowns. Gregg made the third touchdown of the period by taking on the last after Gallaudet, kicking from behind its own line, had sent the ball high into the air, the wind taking it back.

Gallaudet played a better defensive game in the fourth quarter, and the absence of Kirkpatrick and the severe strain placed on Tickey during the early part of the game weakened St. John's attack. The only score was on a clever forward pass from Kelso to Everstine, covering twenty yards.

La Fountain and Conner played the best game for Gallaudet, the former being the only one who could make substantial gains. His forward pass plays were also failures, but the comparatively light line put up an heroic defense.

Line-up and summary:
St. John's. Position. Gallaudet
